

DID LORIMER BUY OFFICE OF SENATOR?

SENSATIONAL STORY GIVEN TO
THE PUBLIC TODAY

CLAIMS TO HAVE PROOFS

Democratic Member of Last Legislature Says He Sold His Vote To Blind Boss.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Ill., April 30.—The Tribune today prints a copy-righted story in which it claims to have in its possession the sworn statement of Charles A. White, a democratic member of the Illinois legislature, charging that United States Senator Lorimer of Illinois was elected last May by bribery and corruption.

White in his statement, it is alleged, says he received a thousand dollars for voting for Senator Lorimer and that the money was paid by Lee O'Neill, a member of the democratic leadership of the last legislature.

White, it is said, also claims to have received nine hundred dollars additional from an alleged general corruption fund distributed at the close of the session.

White voted for Lorimer. White, so the story goes, declares he never had $30,000 on his person when he made the last payment on the thousand dollar bribe.

Brown declared he never "spent a nickel in behalf of Lorimer, one way or other" and added that he holds no vote of White.

For small amounts—bribes.

Gov. Deneen declared that a searching investigation is due the people.

MADISON MAN MAY HAVE ENDED LIFE

George M. Flak Either Accidentally
Drowned or Committed Suicide
In Lake Mendota.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 30.—The police are not yet satisfied that the drowning of George M. Flak, formerly a professor of political economy at the University of Illinois and for years in the real estate business here, who had married a wealthy heiress, was not a case of suicide.

The fact that Flak should take out a small rowboat on Lake Mendota at 10 o'clock last night when a heavy sea was rolling, caused suspicion.

Flak was usually jovial, but was said to be subject to occasional fits of depression.

Search for the body was continued today and once the grappling hooks brought up a piece of clothing, but brought up a piece of clothing, and the body was brought up later.

The news of Flak's death has been cabled to his wife who sailed Thursday for Europe. She will receive the message in Hamburg unless caught by wireless.

Mrs. Flak was formerly Miss Johnson of Madison, a daughter of the late John Johnson, a prominent manufacturer. She has visited in Janesville and is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Carl Johnson, who is a former Janesville resident, daughter of the late Judge Cassiday.

Stenographers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Buffalo, N. Y., April 30.—President Taft arrived here at 7:25 this morning. He was met by a committee of business men and escorted to the residence of Andrew Wilcox, whose guest he will be while in Buffalo.

The President spent the morning dictating to the stenographers. It is believed he will enter into a new defense of tariff act, either in his speech before the Chamber of Commerce in this city tonight, or in his address at Pittsburgh on Monday.

The first public function of the day was held in the Chambers of Commerce where he held an informal reception and proceeded from there to the Buffalo Club where he had lunch.

BALLINGER AGAIN TELLS HIS STORY

Refusal of the Attorney General's Letter Sent to Investigating Committee.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Much of the Ballinger investigating committee's time today was spent in the discussion of another request for the attorney general's letter bearing on the Gila affair. The request was refused and Secretary Ballinger resumed his testimony.

During the discussion, Forester, counsel for Ballinger, associated a request which showed the existence of a conspiracy directed at persons close to the president and prompted by "The resentment of a former secretary of the interior who was not retained and the revenge of a man who was removed for misconduct."

It was late when Secretary Ballinger began his testimony.

PLATTEVILLE WON IN CONTEST LAST NIGHT

Miss Mez Piquet Awarded First Place
In Contest In Declamations
At Monroe.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monroe, Wis., April 30.—Great preparations were made by the high school students for the district contest, which was held here at Turner hall last evening. Representatives from Belmont, Burton, Cuba City, Darlington, Hazel Green, Mineral Point and Platteville came here in goodly numbers to compete with Monroe.

There were two contestants in each city, one in oratory and one in dramatics. Harry Stauffer and Miss Mable Ward were the representatives from the local high school. The outsiders arrived during the day and were warmly received at the high school, which was decorated in bunting and flowers. PUNCH was also served and the visiting teams made as comfortable as possible. A fine crowd gathered at the hall, the reserved seats having been very heavy from the first. Those who took part were present at a drawing to determine the order in which they were to appear.

The contest judges were Supt. S. E. Ratnes, Prospect; Supt. P. E. Converse, Beloit; and one from the Wisconsin university.

Platteville and Mineral Point carried off the honors in the annual district league declamatory contest held here last evening. Frank Denlinger, of Darlington, who recited "The Mount of Laws," and Miss Mez Piquet, of Platteville, recited "Hobbes' Science," getting the first. Miss Blanche Fox and Orson Fox, of Mineral Point, were the seconds, and Miss Fern Lawver, of Hazel Green, and Mona Hoskin, of Darlington, were third. The Monroe contestants got fourth place.

TURKEY FACES CIVIL WAR WITH ALBANIA

Map showing location of battles which have already been fought and other details in connection with Turkey's latest civil upheaval. At top, Chetefk Pasha, minister of war under the young Turks, whose recall is being demanded. Below, at left, present ruler, Mohammed V. At right, deposed ruler, Abdul Hamid.

Constantinople, April 30.—In Turkey's present civil war, thousands have already been killed, the cruellest outrages have been practised not only on captured soldiers but on women and children as well. Besides those killed in battle many have been murdered in cold blood.

The fight is the old one of the old Turkey against the younger generation. The fight centers around the district known as Albania. In the western part of Turkey. Thirty thousand soldiers are now on the field representing the younger Turks, and 60,000 more are being rushed westward with all possible speed.

The uniform success of the Albanians has caused a revolution of feeling against Chetefk Pasha, minister of war, who is at the head of the government soldiery. His recall is being demanded.

GIVEN LONG TERM IN COUNTY BASTILE

Scott Howe Of Beloit Must Spend Year In Jail At Janesville For Habitual Drunkenness.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beloit, April 30.—Scott Howe, aged fifty years, was today sentenced to one year in the county jail because of habitual drunkenness. The detention had been made to send Howe to the penitentiary for one year, but it was found that his hard-worked wife had been paying for his life insurance policy for many years and a prison sentence would vitiate this. Consequently, hoping to preserve the wife's rights, Howe was given the sentence in the county jail.

The problem of treating with chronic drunkards is one of the most difficult Judge Ross contends with. Herbert Hodge, who is under a suspended sentence to the penitentiary, has taken the cure at Keosauqua, Ill., and is coming along finely. Howe's friends could not be persuaded to assist him.

Unkind Reception.

During the parade of the Beloit scholars up the street at Janesville last evening, eggs were thrown at them from the sidewalks and several of the boys' coats were spotted with the yolks of the eggs.

Philadelphia, April 30.—Before thousands of spectators, the chosen representatives of over 200 schools and colleges of the country met today for the purpose of the University of Pennsylvania relay race meeting. The entry list was an exceptionally fine one, comprising over 1,500 performers. Nearly all of the big colleges of the east and south were represented. The institutions of the middle west also had a good representation, including Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Kansas.

PLACES FIGURE AT EIGHT MILLIONS NOW

Damage to Crops Is Now Said to Be Exceptionally Large In State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, April 30.—The damage to the fruit crop of Wisconsin is estimated at the state university to be fully $8,000,000. Reports of the extent of the loss have been gathered from all over the state and a compilation of figures has been made with startling result. Cherries, plums, pears, apples are all a practically total loss. A tree of fruit that escaped is almost as great a novelty as the orchard of Minnesota that was saved because the owner was a freak who took a notion that winter was to return in mid-spring and so he held back the budding of his trees by picking their noses in ice. The tree fruit crop of Wisconsin last year was $5,000,000. Owing to the favorable winter perhaps, the crop this year promised to be vastly greater and the result of the investigation of the university college of agriculture is that the probable loss was about $8,000,000. The snow that accompanied the freezing spell was a great blessing, for it saved one of the largest strawberry crops ever promised in this state. Only a few strawberries were started to bloom when the bad weather came, and the loss to this crop is found to be small. The past winter, one of continuous deep snow, was most favorable for the wintering of ground fruits.

RAISIN IS CROWNED AS KING AT FRESNO

Thousands Of People Gather At Metropolis Of The San Joaquin
To Pay Homage To Muscat
Grape.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Fresno, Cal., April 30.—All other crops may wither and fall but the muscat grape continues to hold its kingly sway in this section of California. It has its day of glory in Fresno, where thousands of people gathered to pay homage to the fruit which is one of the principal products of this vicinity. Raisin bread, raisin pie and plain raisins were distributed free to all the visitors and a carnival program was given for their entertainment. Boxes of raisins were sent to President Taft, John D. Rockefeller and other notables, and hotels, railroads and restaurants throughout the country helped to exploit the fruit at the request of the Fresno growers and packers.

It is proposed to inaugurate the union officially on May 31, under the presidency of the Prince of Wales, who is going to South Africa to preside at the ceremony.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

Peary Will Be Feted In England And Roosevelt In Scandinavian Peninsula—Haskell Trial In Oklahoma.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—President Taft will spend Monday in Pittsburgh, attending the President's Day exercises at the Carnegie Institute in the forenoon and speaking at the annual banquet of the American Republics club in the evening. The following day he will go to Cincinnati to attend the May Music festival in that city and to speak at the unveiling of a bust of Theodore Thomas. From Cincinnati the President will journey to St. Louis where he is scheduled to address a meeting of the National Farmers' Congress called to discuss needed state and national legislation of importance to those engaged in the agricultural industry.

The cases of Governor Haskell of Oklahoma and four other defendants charged with conspiracy to defraud in handling Muskogee town lots will come up for trial Monday before the United States district court now in session at Tulsa.

Former President Roosevelt will spend the week in visiting the northern capital cities of Copenhagen, Christiania and Stockholm, each of which elaborate preparations are being made for his reception and entertainment. In Christiania he will deliver an address before the Nobel peace prize committee and will receive a doctor's degree from the university. At the end of the week Mr. Roosevelt will proceed to Germany. Commander Robert E. Peary will be entertained at luncheon Tuesday by the Royal Society Club in London and on the following day will receive the gold medal of the Royal Geographical Society, before whom he will lecture at the Albert Hall. Another event of the week in London will be the opening of the Japan-British Exhibition at Shepherd's Bush.

Monday will witness the start from Denver of a score of contesting automobiles bound for the City of Mexico on the "Pinto-Flag" endurance and reliability contest under the rules of the American Automobile Association. The chief object of the tour is to open new territory for the automobile.

The week will be notable for the large number of religious conferences and other meetings and conventions of national interest. Included among the gatherings will be the National Missionary Congress and the annual Northern Baptist Convention both of which are to be held in Chicago; the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which will attract thousands of visitors to Asheville, N. C.; the second annual conference on city planning and problems of congestion which is to assemble in Rochester and the International Orthopedic Congress which will hold its sessions in Washington during the three days beginning with Tuesday.

GRAY'S HARBOR MURDER TRIAL

BEGINS AT MONTESANO, WASH., ON MONDAY.

WM. GOHL THE DEFENDANT

Is Suspected of Being Responsible for Assassination of Scores of Sailors.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Aberdeen, Wash., April 30.—Intense interest is manifested throughout the Grays Harbor region in the murder case against William Gohl of Aberdeen, ex-manager of the Sailors' union for Grays Harbor, which is to come up for trial next Monday at Montesano. Gohl is to be tried upon the specific charge of having murdered his former friend and companion, Charles Hattberg, a German sailor, but he is suspected of having robbed and murdered scores of other sailors, whose bodies were found in Grays Harbor during the past ten years.

The prosecution, headed by William Campbell, prosecuting attorney of Hoquiam, has collected a large amount of evidence and expects to be able to prove not only that Gohl was guilty of the murder of Hattberg, but that, for many years, he has made it a practice of robbing and murdering sailors whom he had placed on vessels and who had entrusted their savings to him for safekeeping. The total number of Gohl's alleged victims is variously estimated at from sixty to one hundred and fifty. It is charged that by his wholesale robberies and murders, Gohl accumulated a fortune estimated at more than $20,000, which will probably use for his defense.

Gohl has made no confession, but J. Klingenberg, who is held as his accomplice in the case, made a detailed statement, incriminating himself, which will be used by the prosecution. According to the confession of Klingenberg, who was arrested upon his arrival from Santa Rosalia, Mexico, on the schooner A. J. West, on April 5, Gohl, accompanied by Klingenberg and William Hoffman, another German sailor, went out in the bay in a launch on the night of the murder. On the way, so Klingenberg stated, Gohl killed Hoffman by firing two bullets into the back of his head, robbed him of $400, which had been paid to Hoffman by Gohl as wages during the afternoon, and then cast the body in the bay, weighted with a heavy anchor previously stolen from a mill company's boat. Klingenberg further stated that, after they had returned to the shore after the murder of Hoffman, which was on December 23, 1909, Gohl forced him to accompany him to his shack and to kill Hattberg, who had learned of the cure of Gohl's alleged crimes, too much about Gohl's alleged crimes.

The body of Hattberg was found in Indian Creek by Chief of Police Dean of Hoquiam, on February 3 last, wrapped in a 50-pound anchor, and barely visible at low water. The body of Hoffman, whom Gohl is said to have thrown into the bay not far from the mouth of Indian Creek, has not yet been found, although the authorities have made the most diligent search and notwithstanding the fact that the Odd Fellows lodge to which Hoffman had belonged, offered a reward of $500 for the recovery of his body.

Hoffman and Hattberg disappeared about the same time, just before last Christmas, but at first their disappearance did not arouse any suspicion. In the early part of January the police authorities received a tip from "Ally" Montana, a somewhat notorious character, that Hattberg had been murdered and his body sunk to the bottom of Indian Creek by Gohl. "Ally" Montana obtained his information, it is believed, but it is supposed that he heard Gohl speak of the crime. Acting upon the tip Chief of Police Dean detailed two men to watch Gohl, while he began a thorough search of the waters of Indian Creek, which was found and an examination showed that there were two bullet holes in the back of the head.

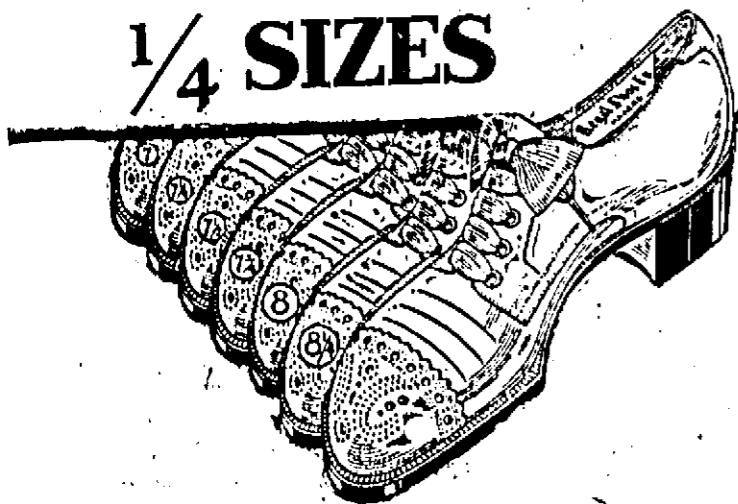

It is believed that two detectives from Seattle who assisted in the investigation of the case and in the collecting of evidence against Gohl, struck up an acquaintance with Gohl and so completely won his confidence, that he became unguarded in his conversation and gave them some valuable pointers. It is understood that the authorities had information of Klingenberg's connection with the Hattberg murder and were prepared to arrest him upon the arrival of the schooner upon which Gohl had placed him, a few days after the murder. Klingenberg stated after his arrest that Gohl, fearing that he would betray the secret of the crime, tried to murder Klingenberg and, failing, murdered Klingenberg.

Gohl, who for seven years was local agent of the Sailors' union, is said to have a bad police record which, it is understood, will be used against him in the trial. The union has raised a fund for his defense and Gohl will be defended by W. H. Abel, one of the shrewdest criminal lawyers in Chinook county, who will be assisted by his brother, A. M. Abel of Aberdeen.

ANOTHER HISTORIC SITE AUCTION AT NEW YORK.

New York April 30.—One of the last of the historic sites in the vicinity of the metropolis fell before the march of population today when Battle Hill Park, at White Plains, was auctioned off for building lots. It was on this memorable ground, on Oct. 28, 1776, that Washington, after defeating a garrison of 3,000 men, for the defense of Fort Washington, gathered with the remainder of his force into a spirited action with the British under Gen. Howe and lost nearly 400 of his men.

CONSTRUCTION OF ROAD WILL START

CHICAGO AND WISCONSIN VALLEY LINE TO BEGIN ACTUAL WORK.

JANESVILLE PROPOSED END

First Part of the Line Will be Built From Portage to Madison—Route Has Been Surveyed.

According to Madison papers, actual work on the construction of the Chicago and Wisconsin Valley line from Portage to Madison will begin within thirty days the Western Indiana Construction Company of Chicago, having the contract for the work.

This is the company that was organized to construct a line from Janesville to Merrill via Madison, Lad. Portage, Friendship, Grand Rapids, Stevens Point and Wausau. The line has been surveyed from Wausau to Madison and the first strip of track is to be laid this summer on this stretch between Portage and Madison. Whether the line will wait for the Cincinnati Construction Company to build the line from Madison to Janesville or will start next year on this route remains to be seen.

Chief Engineer Ellis, of the Cincinnati Construction Company, on a recent trip to Janesville stated that the construction on the Janesville-Madison line, proposed by his company, would begin in May and this is taken to mean that the Portage-Madison division will be built by the Wisconsin Valley Company and the Madison-Janesville branch by the Cincinnati Construction Company and arrangements to run through cars be made by the officers of the two lines.

The intention of the Chicago and Wisconsin Valley company is to begin laying track as fast as portions of the route are graded. The main line has been laid out by the surveyors for five miles north of Middleton and for about seven miles north of Portage. They are now engaged in connecting the two surveys, and as soon as this is done contracts are to be let for the construction. It is the purpose to do the grading on the placement plan, submitting the work for each stretch of track. The general contractor is the Western Indiana Construction company, Chicago.

The work laid out for the coming season is the construction of the line from Briggsdale to Madison—a distance of a little more than fifty miles. Briggsdale is twelve miles north of Portage. Work on the Portage-Briggsdale portion of the line was started Wednesday. The company will go before the Madison common council at the next meeting, May 13, and ask for a franchise. It is the company's desire to begin work at the Madison end as soon as possible, and thirty days is given as a conservative estimate of the time within which they can start grading. The material has been ordered and is on the way.

One of the significant facts connected with the plans of the Chicago and Wisconsin Valley company is that the route around Lake Monona, Madison, has been surveyed with the ultimate intention, it is intimated, of extending the proposed line to circle the lake and provide transportation for the increasing number of summer cottagers who are making their homes for a large part of the year on the opposite shores.

Electric locomotives will be used. It is planned to haul through freight and passenger trains with standard interurban cars to handle city and interurban business. Power for operating the road will be taken from the Wisconsin river. Ultimately the company intends to develop two water powers on the Wisconsin river for generating electric current to operate its cars. The route of this railroad includes territory that is not properly served by railroad. The greater part is not served at all at present. It will connect all the railroads that cross the state with Madison and all the county seats along its route. The company has obtained in Portage a franchise, covering nearly all the streets, including in the new steel bridge across the Wisconsin river, which was built with a view to having a railroad use it.

The general office of the company is in Madison, and regular headquarters will be opened in a few days. A branch office is maintained at Portage. The officers comprising the directors, are as follows: D. E. Frost, Stevens Point, president; J. W. Purves, Friendship, first vice president; A. D. Barnes, Wausau, second vice president; A. J. Behmer, Indianapolis, Ind., secretary; E. J. Baskerville, Madison, assistant secretary; J. E. Jones, Portage, treasurer; P. J. Kimball, Briggsdale, assistant treasurer; Thomas W. Potts, Chicago, Ill.; James R. MacMillan, Lad.

Fungus Kills Bark Beetle.
The bark beetle which for several years has been working havoc in the valuable pine timber of the Black Hills, South Dakota, has apparently been given a check by a fungus which finds in the dying trees a congenial place of lodgment, and at the same time kills the beetles in the bark. There is hope, therefore, that the worst of the scourge in that region has passed.

SUGAR A NEED OF THE BODY

Regulate Food for Both Children and Adults, According to Eminent Authority.

"Give children plenty of pure sugar, fatty and butter scotch and they'll have little need of cod liver oil," says Dr. Woods Hutchinson. "In short, sugar is, after meat, bread and butter, easily our next most important and necessary food. You can put this matter to a test very easily. Just leave off the pie, pudding and other desserts at your lunch or midday dinner. You'll be astonished to find out how quickly you'll feel 'empty' again, and how 'unlabeled' the meal will seem. You can't get any workman to accept a dinner pail without pie in it. And he's absolutely right. The only thing that can take the place of sugar is beer or wine. It is a significant fact that the free lunch counters run in connection with bars furnish every imaginable thing except sweets. Even the restaurants and the lunch grills attached to saloons or bars often refuse to serve desserts of any sort. They know their business. The more sugar and sweets a man takes at a meal, the less alcohol he wants. Conversely nearly every drinking man will tell you he has lost his taste for sweets. The more candy a nation consumes, the less alcohol."

CHARACTER IN FINGER NAILS

Information That Will Be Taken by the Wise for Just What It Is Worth.

It is said there is as much character to be observed from a person's finger nails as from the owner's face. The following indications are stated to be fairly correct.

Those possessing long nails are good natured and self-confident, but placing very little confidence in others. Broad nails are supposed to belong to those of a gentle and bashful disposition. Little round nails are the sign of a person who is seldom pleased, readily inclined to anger, spiteful and revengeful. Anyone with fleshy nails is said to be calm and easy-going, fond of eating and sleeping, and who would prefer a small income without industry to much wealth to be acquired by activity and diligence. Pale or lead-colored nails belong to the melancholy person, but who would do well in all branches of science or philosophy. The long, well-shaped, light nail indicates a refined and artistic nature, fondness of society, and a great love of the beautiful.

Impossibility. It is impossible for a woman to understand how any man can have so much money that he doesn't know what to do with it.—Milwaukee Journal.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

One of the luxuries of modern travel is the Pullman Sleeper which just now is causing so much agitation among legislators in several of the western states. This unrest is not due to the fact that patrons complain about not getting the worth of their money, for but little of this sort of complaint is heard, but the Pullman Company, like the Standard Oil Company, enjoys a monopoly, and therefore is an octopus which should be dealt with as an enemy to the country.

Prejudice is usually the offspring of ignorance, and this is especially true of large corporations. One of the long haired writers for the American Magazine has recently written a story on the Pullman Company which is so distorted as to be almost libelous, yet this is the class of information on which public sentiment is based.

It appears that the Pullman Company started 40 years ago with a capital of $100,000 and the first year placed six cars in operation. The business was successfully managed and today nearly 5,000 cars are in service, built at an average cost of $15,000 and representing a capital investment of more than a quarter billion dollars. Yet this much raked writer talks about dividends of 500 per cent on the original capital of $100,000. That's the sort of argument which breeds discontent and encourages class hatred.

The Pullman Company is a great business corporation. It has a monopoly because railroad companies have discovered that they can't afford to own their own sleepers and the four roads now operating their own cars will never build any more.

When a vestibule train of Pullmans is made up in Chicago for a run across the continent to the coast, it will be handled by several different roads, but the only thing these roads will furnish is the motive power, the light and heat.

During the Seattle exposition, hundreds of these trains were in service every week and the luxury of travel was made possible by the splendid equipment of this "villainous trust."

Which is being said now-a-days, about the price of berths and from the arguments used it might be inferred that the only thing furnished by the Pullman people is a place to sleep, but this is not true.

value, but because they have made money and are successful. Many other lines of business are under the ban of disapproval for the same reason.

Some of the details connected with the management of the Pullman Company present an interesting study. The 5,000 cars in service employ 5,000 porters and half as many conductors. The roads controlling in New York City with the exception of the New York Central all have their terminals at Jersey City, and here hundreds of Pullman cars arrive every day and the city has long been noted as the home of more colored porters than any city in the land.

These men work for $25 per month and their tips, which on many runs amount to several times their salary. The public complain about the tip system and denounce the company for permitting it, but the public alone is responsible.

It is just as natural to tip the colored porter, as it is to tip the car at the end of a journey and if his salary was quadrupled it would make no difference with his receipts.

A colored man was arrested in New York the other day for sleeping in an automobile and bound over for trial at a later date. He furnished his own bond giving as security a $10,000 home.

Asked about his occupation he said that he was a porter on the Hartford express. He employed a white chauffeur who met him at the train every evening. He had been on the same run for many years and was popular with his patrons.

The colored brother has no competition in this field which he occupies so completely, and with such general satisfaction. The white man, who lives on tips is found in the restaurants and cafes and around the entrance of the large hotels, where he blossoms out in silk tie and coachman's garb, with his hand out for anything in sight. The lady who stops out of the taxicab and enters the hotel as a guest, hands him a dollar for opening the door, and he shows disappointment when it is not forthcoming.

When the railroad bill was up for discussion in the Senate the other day Senator La Follette went to bat and his old time colleagues left the room as they usually do when he occupies the floor. His speech which was characteristic of the man has been published and freely denounced. The following is a little editorial paragraph which appeared in the New York Times. It expresses popular opinion in the east of Wisconsin's senator representative.

"Privileged people do say that in Wisconsin there are no more Republicans and Democrats, but only those who are for or against La Follette. There are no more envious backbiters. Everybody is in favor of the funniest Senator who ever foamed at the mouth about nothing. It is not to be expected that his remarks should have any effect on the pending bill. They were delivered for the purpose of being franked through the mails for use by his constituents in lighting fires without matches by the use of his burning words. Let him speak again and often. It is the best hope of the Administration's railway bill. Who can tell who will vote for it if the Senator opposes it some more?"

This is the man who is seen to enter the state and conduct a campaign for his personal benefit, against tariff and the administration, and as he has the only organization in the state he will be successful.

The slogan of reform is down with the trusts and corporations. The Pullman and Standard Oil can stand it all right, but the sentiment is so strong that it is raising havoc with railroads.

We are inclined to believe that such agitation has gone far enough. Many Congressmen seek to gain a reputation by taking a whack at the railroads, believing that they will make themselves solid with their constituents by so doing. The railroads of the country have been held up before the public the past few years as the chief violators of law, and while our eyes have been turned constantly towards them we have failed to notice the depredations of some of the other great industries. Laws have been passed that limit the borrowing capacity of railroads to such an extent that it is quite noticeable that railroad improvement and railroad building has been very lax the past two years.

With all our legislation the burdens of the poor are greater than ever; therefore it is evident that railroads are not responsible for the present condition of affairs.

A return of sanity is most desirable but from the present outlook it will not occur until the republican party is taught a lesson through defeat. Intoxicated with prosperity four years of good old democratic hard times is necessary to bring us to our senses and the cloud now looming up in the distance is foreboding.

PRESS COMMENT.

Winter Did.

There is no doubt but that winter can.

Not Goodwin's Habit.
A Chicago man, whose wife had eloped five times was yesterday given a $200 verdict for alienation of his wife's affections. He said he didn't need the money, but he wanted to make her look cheap. He accomplished his desire but she may look dear at that later to the man who has to pay the $200.—Beloit News.

Aw Kipling says, "Make him take her and keep her, that's hell for them both."

Proof.
After all, it might not be a bad thing for humanity if science should stop a few more days and predict the end of the earth. The spirit of brotherhood among men would have a chance to assert itself. The hurry for the dollar would cease. There would be little angking. The man with a grudge would have something of more importance to think about than his sorrowful grievance. For a time at least, we should realize that we face the eternal.—Milwaukee Journal.

This simply shows that the Journal really can talk sensibly when it avoids politics.

THE PRESENT CRISIS

In workshop, on the farm, we all are viewing with alarm. The things for which our fathers died are hitting the toboggan slide; the day of liberty is done; the Constitution is on the run; the backbone and the Sacred Books are on the blink—their name is Prunes. And while we raise these cries of dread, we're mostly fat and fully fed; and in our motor cars we race quite blithely to the walling place; we wear belted shirts and tailored clothes while setting forth our list of woes; we plan a trip to Europe's shore, when we have howled a little more. Methinks that in the afterlife, when we have reached the blessed Isle, our happiness won't be complete if we can't gather on the street—the golden street of bondless charm—and view with sorrow and alarm. There Constant Reader will sit down in anger and denounce his crown, as being two years out of style, and smaller than his former one. Justin will remark: "My

YOUR FOOD AND WHAT BECOMES OF IT—

Most people imagine that food is digested in the stomach. This is only partly true or rather mostly not true. The stomach secretes pepsin and the necessary acids to digest meat, eggs, etc. That is, it starts the work in the stomach of the food and starch. The rest of most cases of dyspepsia is not in the stomach, but in the pancreas and small intestine. The pancreatic gland secretes pancreatic juice which emulsifies and digests fats which distill in the small intestine, digesting all starchy foods, bread, potatoes, peas, etc., etc. These are all digested in the small intestine. Improper eating or overeating of certain substances or insufficient exercising, necessarily calls for more pancreatic and digestive than nature ordinarily supplies. Now, what's the remedy? If you and your stomach don't agree with you or your stomach is weak, why, take pancreatic and digestive to temporarily assist nature and to those good stomachic foods like Gentian, Lactate acid, Cascara and arsenic, and you have a scientific and efficient remedy. Mr. F. P. Fenner, Graduate Pharmacist, has compounded this prescription so many times that we now call it Digestion Remedy No. 20243. We advise you to preserve this number and at once get a bottle for any case of indigestion or stomach trouble. The price is 50c. This remedy is not a patent medicine, but a perfectly harmless prescription compounded for you fresh in liquid form, the only proper way of taking stomachic remedies as tablets do not thoroughly mix with the food to your best results. Remember the name, Digestion Remedy No. 20243. Bangor Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts., the drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

KIMBALL NAMED A COMMISSIONER

MAYOR CARLE PLACES HIM ON THE FIRE AND POLICE BOARD TODAY.

AN EXCELLENT APPOINTMENT

Nomination Filed With City Clerk Cummings—To Be Confirmed by the Council.
Mayor Carle this morning filed with City Clerk Cummings the name of George F. Kimball, of the Third Ward, as a member of the fire and police commission to succeed Dr. W. H. Judd, whose term of office expires this spring. The appointment is for five years and will be presented to the Common Council on Monday next at which time it will doubtless be confirmed.

The appointment will meet with general approbation as Mr. Kimball made a most enviable record as Alderman from the Third ward and his retirement from the council was regretted by his many friends throughout the city. He will make a valuable addition to the present board.

GEORGE F. KIMBALL
As the board will now stand it will be composed of Claude Hendricks, appointed last year to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late C. C. MacLean, a democrat; Geo. D. Simpson, rep.; W. S. Joffris, rep.; Dr. J. W. St. John, Dem., and George F. Kimball, rep. The terms of office of these members will expire in the order given.

GIVEN SEVEN YEARS AT WAUPUN PRISON

Charles Burroughs Sentenced to State Prison by Madison Judge Today.

Seven years at hard labor was the sentence given Charles Burroughs, in the Madison court this morning having pleaded guilty to arson. It will be remembered that Burroughs was arrested in this city the first of the present week after having been watched by the local officers for several days on request of the sheriff of Dane county. It was learned through Burroughs' wife that the fire which destroyed their home April 13 was set by her husband before Burroughs himself confessed to the crime. It is even said that he had shipped some of the furniture that he listed as destroyed to Janesville before the fire.

TAG DAY PLANS ARE NOW ALL COMPLETED

W. C. T. U. Will See Every One Is Duly Labeled On May the Fourth Next.

If there is a house in the city of Janesville or a pedestrian on the street, that is not supplied with a tag on May 4, it will not be the fault of the ladies of the W. C. T. U. They are going about the city in a systematic manner and their forty members who will sell the tags promise to be very busy from daylight until dark. The money thus raised is to be divided among the state, national and local branches of the association. It is to be tag day all over the state and Janesville hopes to be able to stand well to the front in the receipts when the total is counted. The one beautiful feature of the whole affair is that no change is given back as if anyone gives a dollar for a tag, into the box the dollar goes and no change.

TO JANESVILLE SUBSCRIBERS.
All subscription bills to The Daily Gazette in Janesville are payable monthly, providing, of course an advance payment has not been made. Subscribers will confer a favor by making arrangements so that it will not be necessary for the collector to call more than once. With several thousand people to see each month you can understand the need for co-operation on your part.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.
Taken to Hospital: Charles Wron, formerly a brakeman on the C. M. & St. Paul road, was conveyed to the hospital in Russell's ambulance this afternoon. He had a portion of one foot cut off in an accident at Milton Junction some years ago and partially recovered and resumed work on a passenger car. But lately some form of paralysis of the limb has laid him low and he has been in the care of a nurse at a boarding house on Court street. His home is at Burlington.

DUBBED EACH OTHER CURS AND REPTILES

Genial Little Passages At Arms Between Adversaries At Law Enlivened Referee Hearing Yesterday.

"Smash my face will you? Well here it is—smash it! If I'm a 'cur' there are some points in my favor—a 'cur' is preferable to a reptile seven days in the week! Those and other lurid ejaculations smote the erstwhile circumambient serenity of the circuit chambers yesterday. J. Cunningham's suit against Paul F. Gehlke for about $150 attorney's fees in settlement of an account of long standing had been referred to C. J. Hendricks and testimony was being taken before the latter as referee. The plaintiff was represented by Atty. Edward H. Peterson and O. A. Gostreich, Charles E. Pierce and O. A. Gostreich were counsel for the defendant. As has been indicated, discussion between the opposing attorneys and principals became, at intervals, quite acrimonious. The hearing was commenced on Thursday and may be concluded today.

POLICE KEEP TAB ON SPEED MANIACS

Efforts Being Made To Arrest Auto Owners Who Violate The City Speed Ordinance.

In response to complaints made by residents of Milton Ave., Chief Appleby and Patrolman Dorn yesterday afternoon attempted to catch several offenders against the auto speed ordinance who it was claimed, were burning up the macadam on Milton Ave. in an effort to beat old Father Time. As the city is not provided with any patent electrical appliances to catch the racers and none of the complaints were able to name the offenders, no arrests were made for as soon as the drivers caught sight of brass buttons, they slowed down to a snail's pace. Although several warnings against fast driving have been issued, some of the auto owners have refused to regard them but in the future, short shrift will be given the offenders if they are caught.

COMMENCE SPRING WORK AT Y. M. C. A.

Indoor Gymnasium Classes Have Been Given Up and Baseball, Tennis and Other Sports Will Begin.

Outdoor work at the Y. M. C. A. has been commenced. This morning, Physical Director Wheeler accompanied by the members of the Junior class took a "short run," which was much enjoyed by the boys. The physical director is also planning for more of these runs, gradually increasing the distance and later on taking them on bikes. Baseball teams will be organized and a series of games played. The indoor work in the gymnasium classes has ended, but members will be allowed to go into the gymnasium to practice at any time that they may desire to. Outdoor work will also be commenced in the tennis club, the courts at West Milwaukee and Locust streets are being prepared. Mr. Wheeler and his assistants having been working, evening up the plot, re-setting the posts and making everything ready for the coming season.

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE COST DE SOTA $5.80

Shoemaker Pleads Guilty to Calling John Kueck a Vile Name and Pays Fine.

After spending thirty-six hours in a cell, Albert De Costa, who was arrested into yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by John Kueck for profane and abusive language, did not appear quite so jaunty when he appeared in municipal court this morning, pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $5.80, amounting in all to $5.80.

The trouble occurred yesterday afternoon in Kueck's saloon. De Costa, who was feeling real punk, called Kueck a vile name and offered to fight. His older opponent, however, refused to pick up the gauntlet but made haste to the police station where he demanded that the man who insulted him be arrested without delay, without even the formality of a warrant.

He finally consented to observe the legal proceedings and the warrant was issued. When arrested, De Costa, in whom the spirit of his fighting ancestors as well as his spirit still lingered, told the officer to run along, that he would follow soon and later, cast some insinuations as regards the integrity of the court which the judge very generously refused to hold against him.

CENSUS WORKERS FINISH THEIR WORK

Today Will See the Enumeration of the City's Population Completed.

By tonight it is expected that every citizen of Janesville will have been properly tagged and classified by the government census enumerators who have been at work for the past two weeks. Some amusing incidents are reported by the workers although the facts gleaned can not be told by the government employees under a heavy penalty. One lady of doubtful age in the third ward, who would remain artificially young, beautiful and kittenish to the end of her days, was most insulted when asked her age and said it was in the family bible unfortunately but she never looked as she really had forgotten how old she was. The pater it was not for his personal benefit but that the Government wanted to know it and then she was further insulted, roasted the government and the city and everyone in general. She did not tell her age.

BARTLEY FANNING TAKEN TO MENDOTA

Old-Time Disturber of the Peace From Town of Lima Examined and Found Mentally Unbalanced.

Bartley Fanning of the town of Lima, who has disturbed the peace of Janesville on several memorable occasions, was examined before Judge Sale by Drs. Nuzum and Buckmaster this morning, pronounced insane, and committed to the asylum at Mendota. He was taken thither by Sheriff Schofield this noon. Relatives in the country believed that he was acting queerly and persuaded him to come to town yesterday in the hope that he might be influenced to take some sort of medical treatment. The sheriff was twice called to the home of his brother on Locust street and he was finally found necessary to remove him to the county jail where the brother and the brother-in-law remained with him during the night. One of his pet hallucinations is that somebody is trying to electrocute or poison him.

CIRCUIT COURT MAY TERM OPENS MONDAY

Rock County vs. Weirick Case Will Be Heard On Tuesday, the Tenth, —The Other Cases.

Two're issues of law and fact for the judge are noted for trial in the calendar of the May-term of circuit court which opens Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The action brought by the Rock County Board of Supervisors to perpetually enjoin Registrar of Deeds Charles H. Weirick of his practice of copying the abstract books will be tried on its merits Tuesday, May 10.

Naturalization Petitions.
Four petitions for second naturalization papers will be taken up after the calendar is called Monday afternoon. The petitioners are: Gottfried Landwehr of the town of Union, a native of Switzerland; Louis Topp of the town of Center, a native of Germany; Robert Slansky of Beloit, a native of Russia; and Lawrence Steve Naevanke of La Prairie, a native of Austria.

Issues For Court.
The various issues which the court is to hear and pass upon are as follows:

Edith T. Norton vs. George H. Clark, et al., an action to set aside the deed to some land in Newark.
Hans P. McDevitt, et al. vs. W. D. Hodson, an action for debt.
Edward C. Hood, et al. vs. the Western Shoe Co., an action for debt.
W. D. Harrington, vs. the Rock County Sugar Co.
Harriet H. Smith vs. W. A. Harvey.
Stella Steinhilke vs. Hildebrecht G. Steinhilke.

C. S. Jackman, et al. vs. the City of Janesville, an action to prevent the laying of a sewer on a certain section of Garfield Ave.
Con. Hayes, et al. vs. Alvin Razook, an action to prevent for debt.
Frank C. Hinkel, et al. vs. Charles Carter, et al., a foreclosure of a mortgage.
Lou Bates vs. Henry J. Jans.

Michigan Central Woolen Co. vs. R. E. Lutzendorf.
Joseph P. Thwait vs. the First National Bank of Edgerton, an action to recover a deposit, made by Philip Bonn during his lifetime.

The cases of C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. vs. Carley H. Wall, et al. and J. M. Bestwick, et al. vs. Archie Reid, have been settled out of court.

MORRIS SMITH IN THE SUNSET LAND

Former Ticket Agent at Northwestern Depot Prospering in Washington.

Friends of Morris Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Smith, Chatham St., will be pleased to learn that he is prospering in his home in Washington. Mr. Smith was ticket agent at the Northwestern depot here several years ago, but went from here to Sioux City, where he accepted a similar position. From there he went to Hood River, Washington, buying twenty-two acres of land at Huson on the White Salmon river, paying fifty dollars per acre. With the help of his sons, the timber on this acre was cleared away in a year, the stumps pulled, and fruit trees set out. To secure funds for maintenance, Mr. Smith worked for one year as ticket agent at Pandolton, and his son secured a position as baggage man at Hood River station. Then they returned to their farm for a year, building a home, clearing six acres more and setting out fruit trees, with strawberries planted between the rows. Mr. Smith and his son are now working as day and night ticket agents at Pandolton, Washington. Their property is valued at nine thousand dollars and with the crop of berries they will raise this season, are in a fairly independent position.

OWNER OF CANDY STORE ARRESTED THIS MORNING

Alie Georges Nailed Signs on Telephone Post in Defiance of the City Ordinance.

Acting on the advice of the painter who furnished the signs, Alie Georges, one of the proprietors of a confectionery store on the Milwaukee St. bridge, nailed one of the canvas telephones on each side of a telephone pole in front of his place of business. He thought that the painter's advice was sufficient warrant for the action but changed his mind when brought into court on a warrant sworn out by City Attorney Maxfield and pleaded guilty to the charge. Sentence was suspended until two o'clock this afternoon in order to give him an opportunity to remove the signs.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

F. & A. M. Special communication of Janesville Lodge No. 55, F. & A. M., at Masonic Temple Monday evening at 7:30. Work in M. M. degree. Refreshments. Visiting brethren invited.

Business College Dance: Students of the Janesville Business College participated in a very enjoyable dancing party last evening.

Blind School Alumni: Alumni of the Wisconsin School for the Blind will hold their sixth reunion, June 14 to 16. An excellent program has been prepared and a large attendance is anticipated.

Cubs vs. Comets: The Janesville "Cubs" baseball team will gambol with the Janesville "Comets" on the green at the Fair grounds tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting. The latter team is composed of business college students.

Good Graces: The health authorities were notified today that a dead "critter" was lying in one corner of the fair grounds, and advertising its addition in a boldness but exceeding effective manner. Residents in the vicinity are objecting strenuously and with reason.

E. S. Williams Coming Home: It is expected that E. S. Williams, who has been very ill at Washington, D. C., will arrive here Tuesday with William F. McCue who has gone thither in order to look after him on the homeward journey. C. D. Stevens will meet them in Chicago.

Elmer Scrivens Again: Elmer Scrivens, the incorrigible lad who recently confessed to having at various times stoned St. Paul passenger trains at Spring Brook and also, camped for a week this spring in barns south of the city, was taken in charge again today for "stone throwing". He appears to be unmanageable and another effort will undoubtedly be made to place him in a reform school.

Wreckers' Busy: Work of clearing the track of wrecked cars near Hanover where the Mineral Point way freight was ditched Friday morning, is still going on today. It is reported that a number of articles in the wrecked cars have been stolen. Claim Agent Wick of the road is busy today adjusting and losses, among them being a large shipment of fruit from Hanley Bros. of this city.

Everybody's Meeting at Y. M. C. A.: All men and women are invited to attend the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow at 2:00 p. m. It is to be a special meeting for everybody in charge of the Francis Murphy Temperance League.

BICYCLE BELONGING TO JOHN LLOYD WAS STOLEN

Thinks He Knows Thief Who Took Wheel From His Barn Last Night.

John Lloyd of Pearl St., reported to the police this morning that a bicycle was stolen last night. He stated that the wheel bore a Viking name plate and that it had a blue frame. Lloyd thinks he knows where the bicycle is but will wait and see if it will be returned before causing any trouble.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

SHE LOVED HER OWN.

This is the epitaph of Rose May, taken from a Chicago newspaper. "Defying the warnings of doctors, Rose May worked for eight years in sweatshops to support her widowed mother and two younger sisters and yesterday died, a victim of consumption."

"She had repeatedly been told to go into the country, but she willingly sacrificed her health to buy food and shelter for the family."

"When she began work in the shops where ready made clothing is manufactured she was only thirteen years of age. When she died she was twenty-one."

That's all.
Rose May lived, loved, toiled, sacrificed and died. Here is one of the brief chapters in the short and simple annals of the poor.

Where will you find a finer chapter of devotion?

Picture to yourself the weariness and the dull pains, the heart sickness of those toilsome days when the poor girl dragged herself to the tedious tasks, performed in weakness.

She knew all too well the inevitable days, were creeping on to the final darkness. No soldier facing the forlorn hope knew better.

And, knowing, Rose May smiled smiling piled high on the altar of her devotion the remaining hours of the waiting life. And after eight years of sacrifice she paid the last full measure of suffering.

Having loved her own, she loved them to the end.

The pathos of it! And the mystery of it!

Somewhere in a city cemetery is a nameless mound over which agonized bereavement asks the old, old question—why? Why suffering? Why death? Why?

If we only knew! No wonder the poet mused concerning the mystery of the growth of the flower in the crannies of the wall and said if we knew that mystery we would know the universe and God and all.

If we could see into the mystery of that humble, human flower, Rose May, sprung out of the soil of common life, we could understand the puzzle of the universe.

It is the mystery of selfless love. But we know this—

There are such things in the world as sacrifice and love and faith and hope.

And we know that these things are more mighty, more vital, than all the other things that men would call important. They are the real things of life.

COTTON GRABBED BY THE BULLS

DELIVERY OF 200,000 BALES MONDAY ANTICIPATED BY PATTERNS CROWD.

CALLING OF LOANS ENORMOUS

Chicago Man and His Followers Must Meet Payments of $15,000,000 on Monday—Bears Are Scouring the South.

New York, April 30.—Transactions in spot cotton were the greatest for any single day in the history of the New York cotton exchange. James A. Patten was at the front securely entrenched in the offices of J. S. Macne & Co. and fortified to the extent of $18,000,000 and $6,000,000 of $7,000,000 additionally forthcoming on Monday morning as a result of the calling of loans.

Spot cotton means ready cash for the commodity and Mr. Patten and his friends apparently had plenty of the wherewithal.

Tenders Are Enormous.

Approximately 200,000 bales were tendered the bull clique, aggregating in value about $15,000,000, which will have to be taken and paid for by Mr. Patten and his associates on Monday morning. The 200,000 bales are said to include virtually every bale of cotton now in New York warehouses and at current prices based on $73 a bale for May cotton deliveries of 200,000 bales involve the changing hands on Monday morning of not less than $14,500,000.

Bulls Contract For 300,000 Bales.

According to the best estimates of cotton houses, James A. Patten, Frank B. Hayne, William P. Brown and Eugene N. Seales had contracted for not less than 300,000 bales of May cotton, and while the sellers have until May 31 in which to make deliveries upon three days notice, curiosity is manifested as to where the additional 100,000 bales of cotton is to come from. The bears are known to be scouring the south for every available bale of cotton they can lay their hands on.

Incidentally it was announced that the bull clique had managed to dispose of 50,000 bales of the cotton delivered to them at a handsome profit to various mills.

FREIGHT RATES TO INCREASE.

Freight rates will rise on new system of tariffs by June 1.

Washington, April 30.—Freight tariffs showing considerable increases over the present rates from western territory to the Atlantic seaboard will be filed with the Interstate commerce, to become effective June 1.

This is the first step taken by the railroads which appears to indicate a purpose generally to increase freight rates throughout the country in order to enable them to meet their increased operating expenses.

Already tariffs have been filed for western roads increasing the rate for the transportation of wool from Minneapolis and St. Paul to New York and other Atlantic seaboard points. The present rate on wool from Minneapolis to New York is 64 cents per hundred pounds. Under the provisions of the tariff the rate will be 64 cents a hundred pounds, an increase of nearly 20 per cent. The rate to Boston will be proportionately higher.

40,000 MINERS REAP VICTORY.

Controversy in Pittsburgh District Settled—Men Resume Work Monday.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 30.—The controversy between the 40,000 union miners and operators of the Pittsburgh soft coal district, which resulted in a month's suspension of work, was settled late last night. The miners will return to work Monday.

The settlement was brought about through the adoption of a proposition made by National President T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers at a conference between committees of the operators and men.

ARCHITECT IS FOUND GUILTY.

J. M. Huston Is Convicted of Grafting at Philadelphia.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30.—The jury in the case of Joseph M. Huston, the Philadelphia architect charged with conspiracy to defraud the state in connection with a furniture contract for the state capitol, returned a verdict of "guilty of defrauding the state." This verdict was reached after the court sent the jury back when they returned a verdict of "guilty of defrauding the commonwealth," which was unsatisfactory to the court.

Masons Lay a Corner Stone.

La Grange, Ill., April 30.—With elaborate ceremonies the corner stone of the new $100,000 Illinois Masonic Orphan home was laid this afternoon by the Illinois grand lodge and President George M. Moulton of the Masonic home. The Cook county commissioners of Knights Templar escorted the grand lodge in a spectacular parade.

King Gives Budget Approval.

London, April 30.—The budget, which has kept politics in a turmoil during the last year, received the royal assent, thus becoming a law on the anniversary of its introduction. The house of lords and the house of commons adjourned until May 20.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

There is a happy medium between wealth and poverty, which promotes physical health and social comfort, and beyond this boundary it were well if none could pass. Inasmuch as man can carry nothing with him at the close of life except a record of good works, he who possesses a competency during life enjoys all the pleasures that money can buy without surfeit. But some wish for wealth to be enabled to do good. A few men use riches as if they were a loan from God—sowing the paths of the poor and sick with blessings; many men value riches only because they enable them to live in sluggish idleness, to gratify in full measure their stimulated passions and dazzle the world with glittering gew-gaws. The former possess a placid mind, a cheerful disposition and harmony of body; the latter, mental uneasiness and physical debility, and from unceasing attention to pleasure and dissipation arise the common evils of wealth. The mind under constant excitement, the blood hot with excessive stimulus and the muscles paralyzed with inactivity or improper exercise, cannot fail to impair the health. Do not hold health a secondary matter. Business and pleasure are at its mercy in the long run, and so is higher than either.

Asking Too Much.
"Nobody should be allowed to purchase anything from a pharmacist without a physician's prescription," said the cautious citizen. "Nonsense," replied the druggist. "You couldn't expect even a doctor to know the correct Latin for soda water and chewing gum."

Charm of Paris Society.
The charm of society life in Paris lies in its great diversity. We love even its painful duties. We attend with equal eagerness—I had almost said equal satisfaction—a state funeral or a first presentation. This is a form of worldly politeness in its higher sense.—Ladies' Field.

CALLS GLAVIS LIAR; A STRIKING FIGURE

BALLINGER TAKES STAND AND TESTIFIES IN HIS OWN BEHALF.

MAKES A STRIKING FIGURE

Secretary Declares Accuser Tried to Beamish His Character in Connection With Cunningham Claims—Alludes to Pinchot But Once.

Washington, April 30.—Breathless defiance of his accusers, Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, the central defensive figure in the case growing out of the Pinchot-Glavis charges, went on the stand before the congressional investigating committee and characterized L. B. Glavis, chief witness against him, as a "willful, deliberate liar."

Secretary Ballinger looked confident and aggressive. Standing on the data with his right hand raised to be sworn, erect, he made a striking figure. He took the oath in a firm voice and seemed perfectly at ease as he settled into the witness chair.

Says Glavis Deliberately Lied.

"That is a deliberate lie," he replied to a question from his attorney, Mr. Vortress, as to the truth of the testimony of L. B. Glavis, former chief field agent of the land office, who had informed the commission that he discussed the Cunningham claim with Ballinger in December, 1907.

Mr. Ballinger was asked whether he and Mr. Garfield had parted friends. Mr. Ballinger said that when he returned to the stand, he produced a letter from Mr. Ballinger to read from the witness chair. Questioned about Glavis' testimony that when they met in Seattle in the summer of 1908, Ballinger said that the Cunningham claim was in a bad way, the witness broke in on the question before it was finished, and said: "That is a deliberate lie, like many others of his statements to this committee. It is another contemptible attempt of that man Glavis to beamish my character."

Burned Bridges Behind Him.

Passing to the time when he became secretary of the interior, Mr. Ballinger testified that he burned all his bridges behind him, dissolved his law firm and severed all connection with corporations.

Only brief direct allusion was made to Gifford Pinchot in the proceedings. Mr. Vortress asked only one question that involved Pinchot, inquiring then to the relations of the secretary and the chief forester.

"I had supposed them friendly," said Secretary Ballinger, slowly, as if weighing his words. "I realized that Gifford Pinchot, and I were not in accord on many questions of policy. I differed with him, but I thought I might differ with him without being considered a criminal for so doing."

This answer came at the end of four hours of rapid questioning, when the committee was about ready to adjourn. It left the impression that Pinchot will be a leading topic when Secretary Ballinger resumes the stand. It is expected that his examination will last at least three days more, for although neither Pinchot nor Glavis is here, both are represented by lawyers who are plying for cross-examination.

SOCIALISTS PLAN MAY BATTLE.

Authorities Prepare to Put Down Manifestations in Paris.

Paris, April 30.—The Socialists are preparing a huge manifestation in Paris and the provinces for May day. La Guerre Sociale issues a violent call to workmen to battle with the troops and police to the bitter end if they are provoked in the slightest manner. It urges them to employ the same tactics that were used in the Ferrer demonstration in Paris. The prefect of police has summoned 20,000 troops and police to Paris. Last night six cavalry regiments arrived from Versailles and Fontainebleau.

Leap Saves Town Treasurer.

Utica, N. Y., April 29.—William J. Walrad, formerly treasurer of North-amer, jumped out of his automobile just before it was struck by a train on the New York Central. The machine was thrown 250 feet.

'FRISCO POLICE HEAD INDICTED.

Harry P. Flannery Is Charged With Grand Larceny.

San Francisco, April 30.—The Marin county grand jury returned an indictment against Harry P. Flannery, president of the San Francisco police commission, on the charge of grand larceny. The indictment is the direct result of disclosures made by Joseph Abbott, an alleged bunco man, of Flannery's part in a plot to protect operators of confidence games.

Sheriff Taylor of Marin county visited the Flannery home and served the warrant on the police commissioner, who is confined to his bed suffering from an attack of pneumonia poisoning. Hall was given in the sum of $2,000.

Flannery declares he is innocent of any wrong doing.

Value of Friendship.

True friendship is one of the greatest blessings upon earth. It makes the cares and anxieties of life sit easily; provides us with a partner in our afflictions, and is a sure resort against every accident and difficulty that can happen to us.

Valuable Possession.

There is nothing so great as to be capable of happiness; to pick it out of every moment and whatever happens.—Anne Gilchrist.

SAVES CHILDREN FROM DEATH.

Chicago Man Electrocuted When He Seizes Live Wire.

South Bend, Ind., April 30.—D. J. Smith, fifty years old, who has a wife and several children in Chicago, was killed at Laporte while trying to save school children from death. He was electrocuted when he seized a live wire near which the little ones were playing.

Yancey Gives Up His Fortune.

Memphis, Tenn., April 30.—Sacrificing his entire individual estate to creditors of Knight, Yancey & Co., of Decatur, Ala., W. J. Yancey of this city, member of the Decatur cotton firm, announced that he was turning his personal fortune over to firms and individuals caught in the crash and beginning life all over again.

TWO GIRLS LEAP INTO RIVER.

School Children Are Caught on Bridge by Passenger Train.

Pond du Lac, Wis., April 30.—Three little girls on their way home from school were overtaken by a passenger train on a railroad bridge over the Pond du Lac river. Two jumped into the river to escape being struck by the speeding train and were drowned. The third was struck by the engine and fatally injured. The dead are: Amanda Lee, age nine; Milda Lemke, age nine; Molla Lee was picked up in a mangled condition and was taken to the hospital. All three children were cousins.

Exports of American Fruit.

The sale of American fruit abroad has amounted to about $14,000,000 annually for the last several years.

Settlement of Britain.

It is quite generally held by students of the ethnic migrations across Europe that the Irish are of a race older than the British, but that they settled in Britain first and then moved on to Ireland under the impulse of later swarms behind them. The settlement of Scotland is similarly explained as a crowding of the same race to the northward, upon which was later overlaid a backward migration from the north of Ireland to the nearest point of Scotland.

A Hard-Luck Story.

"Patience always pays." "I don't know about that," replied Mr. Hunting Work, "I had a pretty good position as a bill collector. But I made myself so agreeable that people held out on payments for fear I'd stop calling on them."

Pen Picture of Gentleman.

Cardinal Newman has painted the character of the perfect gentleman: He is one who never inflicts pain. He carefully avoids whatever may cause a jar or a jolt in the minds of those with whom he is cast—all clashing of opinion or collision of feeling, all restraint or suspicion or gloom or resentment; his great concern being, make every one at ease and at home.

Fair But Stormy.

A gentleman boarded the Korori car at Kilmarnock, venue. Recognizing a friend on one of the seats, he nodded pleasantly, and then said: "Well, what do you think of the weather?" "Oh, horrible!" was the reply. "And how is your wife to-day?" "She's just about the same, thank you!"—New Zealand Free Press.

Oranges Are Now Cheap and Good —
By the Peck They Cost Less Than Apples

5,000 California Orchards Stripped of Choicest Oranges

"Sunkist" Oranges

By-the-Peck Sale Sale Begins Monday, May 2nd

Of all times of the year this is fruit buying time. Of all fruits — oranges are cheapest and best right now — and of all brands of oranges the "Sunkist" Orange is King.

At this great sale "Sunkist" Oranges by-the-peck cost one-third less than table apples. Get a peck of choicest "Sunkist" Oranges, then inquire what a peck of choice table apples are worth — prove it yourself.

The unsurpassed lusciousness of "Sunkist" Oranges will make you want to go back to the store for another peck and another. Every table should have "Sunkist" Oranges at every meal.

"Sunkist" Oranges Are Seedless

They are firm, sweet, tree-ripened, delicious. Their exquisitely rich juiciness is found in none but "Sunkist" brand. Their deep tint vouches for matured full-flavor in the tender pulp.

They are picked by gloved hands and with the same extreme care that is taken in their scientific cultivation.

"Sunkist" Oranges are our choicest fruit from 5,000 groves.

"Sunkist" Lemons are firm, tree-ripened and contain an unusual amount of juice. You'll quickly see the difference between "Sunkist" and common lemons.

"Sunkist" on the Wrapper | Free Orange Spoon

"Sunkist" oranges and lemons are sold only in tissue paper wrappers bearing the "Sunkist" label. Insist that the oranges and lemons you buy are wrapped in that manner — then you are positive about the quality.

You can easily have a full table set in a short time. Start saving the day the big sale opens. Send your wrappers and stamps to Send us 12 "Sunkist" lemon or orange wrappers and 6 two-cent stamps and we will send you free a handsome orange spoon of Rogers' full standard plate.

"Eat More Oranges" — Physicians' Advice

"Sunkist" Oranges are unsurpassed as a tonic. Physicians advise oranges as a digestive aid. They have tremendous food value for brain and nerve cells. Morning, noon and night is orange eating time. You'll be surprised at the health-giving qualities of "Sunkist" Oranges.

IN THE DINING CAR

First Woman—"How shall we manage this meal? Shall we all order together and divide? I think that will be perfectly lovely, don't you, Miss Durbin?"

Miss Durbin—"For the rest, perhaps. You see, I ordered when I first came in. I was here five minutes before you came."

First Woman—"Oh, yes. Well, now, girls, what'll we get? Coffee?"

Tall Woman—"The coffee on these trains is perfectly terrible. It is as much as your life is worth to drink it. How one misses one's home table when one is traveling!"

Young Girl—"Isn't it the loveliest thing we all got on the same train? It just shows how small the world is, after all. Do you suppose that porter will watch our things for us?"

First Woman—"I don't know, I'm sure. I heard him telling a man he couldn't abide women who spread themselves all over the car."

Walter—"Ready to order yet, madam?"

Short Woman—"Gracious, not how these waiters do hurry one! What do you think of some clam chowder?"

First Woman—"I'm tired of clams. How about rolls? Rolls, waiter."

Tall Woman—"He sure they're hot. One always gets cold things on these cars. And coffee, of course."

Short Woman—"Not at all. I prefer tea."

First Woman—"One tea and the rest coffee. Oh, dear, what else?"

Dark Woman—"What did you order, Miss Durbin?"

Miss Durbin—"Chops, fried potatoes, rolls, tea and waffles."

First Woman—"Very well. Bring the same for us, waiter."

Walter—"One check, madam?"

First Woman—"How about it, girls?"

Young Girl—"Oh, certainly. We can divide afterward."

Tall Woman—"How flat the scenery is! It's scarcely worth while to look out of the window. Traveling is such a bore."

Short Woman—"It would not be if the attendance were better. Where can you find the equal of that porter, for instance? He told me I had been in that dressing room an hour, when it hadn't been a second longer than 15 minutes."

Young Girl—"Some of the passengers are worse. There's a woman in there who made an awful fuss because she said I had her book. How could I know it was really her book? She couldn't prove it. I found it lying in a seat and it happened to be a book I was just crazy to read. I finished it, too, before I gave it back to her."

Dark Woman—"I had trouble with that same woman! She actually had the porter tell me to move. She said I had the upper berth and had to ride backward because she and her little girl had a lower. She was disagreeably persistent."

First Woman—"Here comes the waiter. Just put the things here. Gracious, he hasn't brought half the order! I don't care what she told you, waiter. We want them at this end of the table. We can't all of us have everything in front of us. Now, get the rest of the order as quick as you can. Don't stand there like that. Don't say any more about it, do you hear? Did you ever?"

Short Woman—"Only one cup of tea, so that's mine. Please pass the rolls. My, how stingy! Only four rolls for all of us! Now, should you not think a rich road like this would do better than that by its patrons?"

Miss Durbin—"Excuse me, but—"

Tall Woman—"I'd like some fried potatoes, please."

First Woman—"We'd better divide the chops. Who wants the Saratoga chops?"

Dark Woman—"I suppose I'll have to take them, as there's nothing else left."

Young Girl—"I took the last roll. Does that mean a handsome husband?"

Short Woman—"What's in that covered dish? Waiter! Thank goodness, there's enough of those. Is that real shrimp, do you suppose? You never can tell when you're being cheated."

Miss Durbin—"So it seems. Excuse me, but isn't that my order that the waiter brought?"

Dark Woman—"I wonder if it was? Here, take some of these chops. They're awfully dry."

Short Woman—"Here's the tea. I thought after I'd fixed it with cream and sugar that I'd rather have a lemon."

Miss Durbin—"I take tea plain."

Tall Woman—"Never mind. Here comes the waiter with our order. I'm sorry there aren't any more of your chops left."

Miss Durbin—"I might have some of yours, don't you think?"

First Woman—"We'd be glad to let you have some, but, you see, there are only enough for us. They are so stingy on these roads, you know. Would you like a roll?"

Miss Durbin—"No, thank you." (Departs.)

Tall Woman—"She's gone! Wasn't she rude! That's what we get for taking up with a stranger. We ought to have kept to our original party. You can't be friendly with everybody and not regret it. I believe in being exclusive myself."

KEEPING COOL.

Drinking hurriedly even a cupful of ice cold water when one is very warm, in a state of nervous collapse, perhaps, is always injurious and may even be fatal. It is necessary to supply more liquid to the system when there is extreme perspiration, but it is a mistake to think that one can become comfortably cool by drinking much ice cold water. A far better way is to bathe the temples and the neck with water from a hydrant, wet the hair and drink moderately of water at ordinary temperature, slowly. The daily cool bath with a vigorous towel rubbing will make the heat more tolerable by facilitating perspiration, the natural means by which the temperature of the body is reduced. The fuel—the food—should also be reduced.

THE SIZE OF IT.

Ton—How big is your fat? Ethel—Well, it's so small we have to use condensed milk.

Youthful Teacher's Bravery.

The brave action of a girl teacher was publicly noticed at a recent meeting of Scarborough (Eng.) town council. Miss Smith was in a room with a class of 40 children, none over five years of age. One boy had in his pocket some Bengal lights. Suddenly his clothes burst into flames. Miss Smith at once called the children to order to prevent panic and then seizing hold of the screaming child wrapped him in her dress and put out the flames with her hands. But for her presence of mind the child would undoubtedly have lost his life. Then she ran with the child to its mother and collapsed. Her hands and arms were badly blistered and her dress burnt, but the child was saved.

Cost of Living.
"I've got to get a new butcher," fumed the distracted boarding house keeper. "This is the third time he's sent me veal to make chicken salad with, and forgotten to mix a few feathers with it!"

For Happiness.
Who is the happiest of men? He who values the merits of others and in their pleasure takes joy, even as they take theirs.—Goethe.

The Driver—If I don't beat him, I'll never reach town.

The Philosopher of Folly.
"When a really resourceful man finds that he hasn't enough money to buy coal," says the Philosopher of Folly, "he pawns the stove."

A Diamond Candle.

Many diamonds which have been exposed to sunshine give out light on being placed in a dark room. When placed in a vacuum and exposed to a high-tension current of electricity, diamonds phosphoresce, or shine, with different colors. Most South African diamonds, under these circumstances, exhibit a bluish light, while diamonds from other parts of the world shine with such colors as bright blue, apricot, pale blue, red, yellowish green, orange and pale green. In a lecture delivered in London, Prof. Crookes stated that one beautiful green diamond in his collection, when phosphorescing in a good vacuum, gave almost as much light as a candle. The light was pale green, almost white.

Such a Waste.

Hurling His Business.

Cat's Sense of Locality.

A kitten about six months old was taken to a house a few miles distant from its birthplace, confined in a room and tenderly cared for during a week, and then set at liberty. It was supposed to have become habituated to its new surroundings, but it returned to its old home on the day of its release. The sense of locality and direction was exhibited still more strikingly by an old toment, which was stolen and carried a distance of 20 miles, confined in a bag. The cat was imprisoned, but made its escape, and in a few days reappeared in a pitiable state at the home of its former master, which was separated from that of the thief by a high wooded cliff.—Scientific American.

FIRST PLACE WON
BY LOCAL SCHOOLHONORS IN LEAGUE CONTEST
LAST EVENING AWARDED TO JANSVILLE CON-TESTANTS.

BELOIT H. S. WAS SECOND

George Yahn Best in Oratory and Miss Ruth Humphrey in Declamation—Students Showed Much Enthusiasm.Jansville high school won first place in the twelfth annual oratorical and declamatory contest of the Rock County league held in the auditorium of the high school building last evening. To Beloit high school for the oratorical and declamatory abilities of her students second place was awarded. Four students were represented in the contest, the other two being Evansville high school and Whitewater high school.George Yahn of the local school won the honors in oratory, by his oration, "The Empire Builder." Miss Ruth Humphrey won second place by her declamatory, "The Little Snowflake." Beloit high school was represented by Leo Cook and Miss Lola Fairchild. Competition in oratory was close, all four speakers giving excellent presentations. Miss Humphrey's selection was, however, by far the best of the four given.
The judges were President W. J.
Sutherland of Plattville, Principal
C. P. Briggs of Rockford, and Prof.
J. E. Black of the University of Wisconsin.Over eight hundred people, mostly students of the various schools, attended the contest. Beloit brought the largest delegation, with about two hundred, about one hundred came from Whitewater and from Evansville there were in the neighborhood of sixty. A section of the auditorium was assigned to each school and there the students assembled to give their speeches and songs.The fun started early, many of the members of the student bodies gathering at the school early to give their yells. Each had a cheer leader and at all of the schools meetings had been held to arouse enthusiasm and unite the songs and yells. The Beloit crowd brought the school orchestra with them to add their instrumental efforts to the other rosters.The orchestra of the local school also assisted the Jansville students.
As each contestant stepped forward to deliver his oration or declamation, he was greeted by hearty hand-clapping and loud cheering and was loudly cheered on leaving the platform.S. M. Smith of the Board of Education of this city, presided at the contest and the high school orchestra, led by Miss Nellie Miller, rendered several pleasing selections, opening the program with the "Anniversary March."Cecil Ware of Evansville was the first of the oratorical speakers. His subject was "Dewey's Victory" and his oration dealt with the fact accomplished by Commodore Dewey in the battle of Manila. It was well delivered, although an improvement could be made in expression and gestures."Affairs in Cuba" by Leo Cook of Beloit, went second place in the contest. Modulations of the tone of his voice emphasized the strong points he desired to bring out.Gracefulness and naturalness of delivery was the keynote of "Happiness and Liberty" by Vernon Arnold of Whitewater. The subject was happily chosen for the expression of Mr.
Arnold's powers as a speaker and his delivery was very good.George Yahn appeared at his best last evening and gave a splendid exhibition of his talent. His oration,
"The Empire Builder," an eulogy of Richardson, who established the reign of absolutism in France—was forcibly presented and the young man certainly deserved the praise and applause he received.The selection "Fifth Nocturne" was played by the high school orchestra and the contest in declamations was taken up.Miss Elizabeth Ingalls of Whitewater was the first to appear, her selection being "The Palace of the King." She was followed by Miss Lola Fairchild of "Helen," who gave
"For Dear Old Dad." The next representative of the Evansville school, Miss mation a selection from "Patsy."The cleverest of them all, however, was Miss Ruth Humphrey, who succeeded to Miss Emma Snowmaker, who for several years brought glory to the school by her declamatory abilities. Her superiority was acknowledged and her talent highly praised.While the judges were conferring the high school orchestra gave a pleasing musical rendition and the cheers for their favorites and the school yell.The decision of the judges was announced by President Sutherland of

FORMER ILLINOIS FARMER

PASSED AWAY IN MONROE

Frederick Wells, a resident of Monroe

for four years, died Thursday morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Monroe, Wis., April 29.—Frederick

Wells, a resident of this city for the past four years, passed away at his home on South Monroe street yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, following an illness lasting since the holidays, and having been bedridden for a month past with Bright's disease. He was born in Onondaga township, Steuben county, Illinois, in 1838, and spent the greater part of his life on a farm which he owned three miles southwest of Onondaga. He was married in 1862 to Miss Ellen Kline who died eighteen years ago. In 1896 he was married in this city to Mrs. Belle

Noble, who, with five children, survive

him. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at the home, and the remains will then be taken to Orangeville for interment.

Buncos Men Escape.

Short-changers, who operated at Madison, and afterward jumped on a train, got off at Monroe, or rather were ejected from the train, equid-ed the way to Prescott and skipped out.

They short-changed a firm at Madison out of $10, were found and expressed themselves willing to return the money. A clerk who had followed them from the store and who was escorting them back to make the matter right was given the slip and the men ran to a freight train which was pulling out of the Illinois Central yards at that time. Had the officers here been notified, they might have taken the men prisoners.

WASTAKEN FROM FAYSet of Tools the Most Complete Ever Discovered Belonged to

Eddie Fay.

Eddie Fay, who took French leave of the Rock county jail, one August night several years ago, is now a convicted felon in the government's care.
His arrest and conviction for the Richmond, Virginia postoffice robbery has put him out of the running for the present at least.Down in Washington, recently, Postmaster General R. H. Hitchcock, Speaker "Joe" Cannon, and Senator Burbank of New Hampshire were given inside information on the use of burglar tools by Postoffice Inspector John R. Harrison, in the office of Mr. Hitchcock. Inspector Harrison and his associates trailed Eddie Fay and his pals, who robbed the Richmond postoffice.The kit includes "blunders" of various sizes, "bits," chisels, skeleton keys, nitroglycerin bag, dynamite cock and various other articles in the sawblower's outfit. The tools are made of the most handsomely nickel-steel and are all handsomely nickel-plated. Each one is encased in a plated, leather case. They will be on public exhibition in the postoffice department in a few days.By request Postmaster General Hitchcock and Postmaster General Hitchcock and his distinguished guests the use of each instrument, showing to the surprise of the observers, how comparatively easy it is for the expert crackman to open a modern safe, provided only that he be left undisturbed for a sufficient length of time.Mr. Harrison informed Speaker Cannon that the losses by robberies for which the postoffice department was reimbursed last year was $131, 912, and explained that through the efficiency of the inspectors the burglars were usually captured and most,
and in some instances all, of the loot
is recovered.Fay, who was in custody at Woodford's Gaol, was taken to the Rock county jail, where he was held for the

THEATRE

"Isle of Spice"
With fresh scenery, faces, costumes, electrical and stage effects, the "Isle of Spice," B. C. Whitney's pliant musical mixture, comes to the Myers Theatre Saturday, April 30, matinee and evening. It is only a mythical tale, that is supposed to be

JESSIE WEBSTER AS TRINKET IN "THE ISLE OF SPICE" SATURDAY, MATINEE AND NIGHT, APRIL 30.

In the Sea of Japan, somewhere between Sachalin and Formosa, but it is always summer there, always merry and cheerful, and the inhabitants live their lives as do other folk; have their love affairs, their joy, their sorrows, and make their little laws. Hence the plot of the play, King Huiyopka takes unto himself a wife every seven years. These wives according to a decree of the king and his chief advisors, Lord Kashon, the Court Treasurer, and his brother, Lord Kommer, have to undergo a period of training in the Tomb of Silence for seven years. At the end of this time she is supposed to know enough to hold her tongue, so she is released and married to the king. Teresa, the hereditary owner of one-half the spice fields in the kingdom, has been educated in America and while there meets a young officer of the U. S. marine, Lieutenant Ketchum, and there is a mutual love affair. Upon her return to her native land, Teresa is selected by the King for his next wife. Teresa of course, objects strenuously to the "Tomb" and to the king. Kashon and Kommer insist that Teresa go to the "Tomb" in order to conform to the law, and to further their own scheme to place Ashen, their ally, on the throne. The king endeavors to have the "Tomb" law set aside. This is opposed by Kashon and Kommer, who are planning to get Teresa put away for seven years, so as to get possession of her rich spice fields. This is the condition of affairs when Lieut. Ketchum lands on the island with a detachment of Marines from the U. S. gunboat Roosevelt. Ketchum meets Teresa, learns the state of things and to prevent the marriage, places the island under the flag of the United States. Two months later, Kashon and O'Grady, are sent up in a balloon for practice, the balloon lands on the island near King's palace and the two men are taken for messengers from the sun. These men are introduced to the king by Kashon as a magician and an astrologer. The king commands the astrologer to produce money for him, and on his failure to do so, they are both sent to the Tomb of Silence as a substitute for Teresa, and then the King orders preparations for his wedding. The Lieutenant trains the guns of his warship on the King's palace, Teresa turns over the spice fields to the king, the sailors are released, the king marries the candidate who has been in the "Tomb" (Ashen) and there is a happy understanding for all.

The musical numbers in the "Isle of Spice" have become famous and consist of "The Goo Goo Man," "Peggy Brady," "Billy Sailors," "You and I," the gorgeous transformation number, "The Star of Fate," "The Troublesome Witches," "Uncle Sam's Marches," and others, which are rendered by the great B. C. Whitney American Beauty Chorus.

What Frederic Thompson Says of the Drama Today.

"The most successful plays and the William Brady's "Way Down East" have made more money and will live longer on the forty weeks a year boards than any three cleverly written but suggestively immoral French or English or American plays which you or anyone can name.

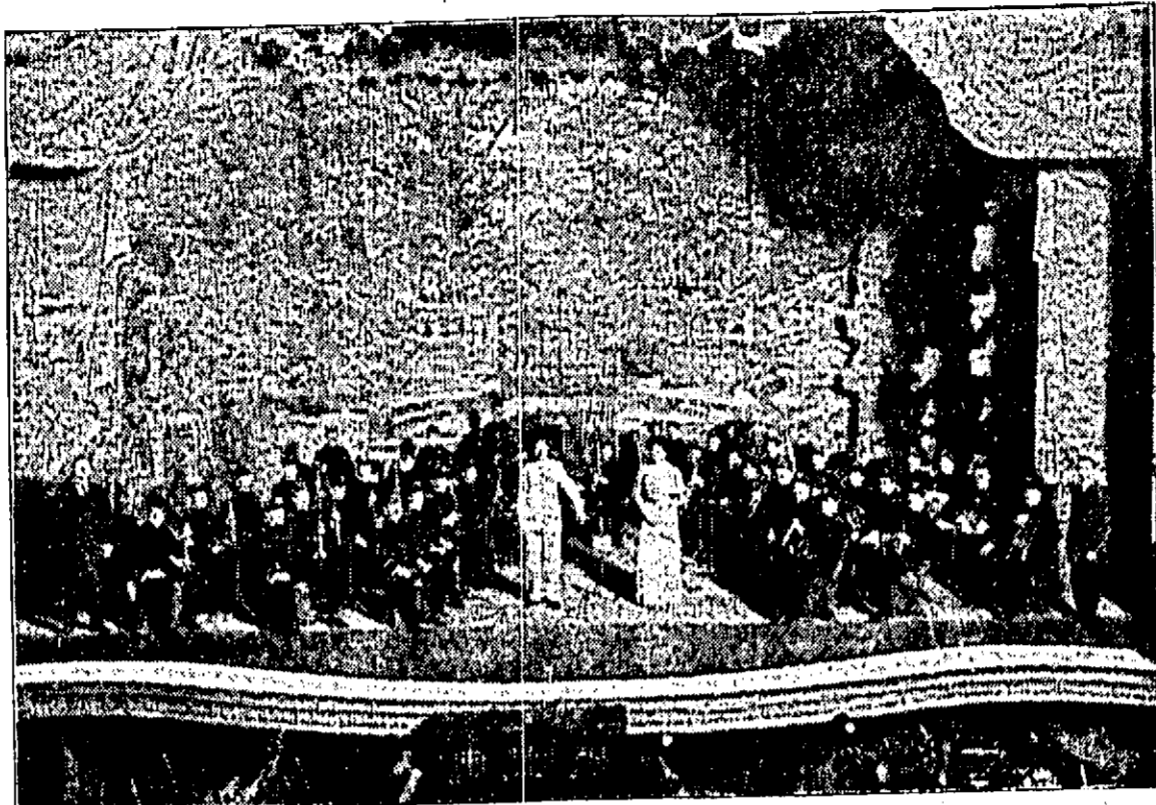

"Brewster's Millions" and "Polly of the Circus," both of which I am proud to have produced, have been, are now and will continue to be productive of bigger returns than any two American plays of the present day which deal with decency. To make the stage clean tomorrow we must keep plugging them shrieking and blinding to the footlights and exposing them there to the theatre full of amusement-loving people? A manager often called the Melodrama King told me, a few days ago, that he could not produce popular-price thrillers successfully without having wayward girls and sham life in the spotlight. I produced "Via Wireless," a high-priced melodrama, with the aid of neither, and I venture the prediction that it will succeed monumentally for years to come. Do you suppose for an instant that the plays of Chas. Klein, whose plays reflect the very thing we must avoid—artistic decadence, "A place for your wife, your mother, your sister and your sweetheart" is the label I tacked on Luna Park when I first opened it. It's there yet and will remain as long as I am proprietor. It is my motto in theatricals and I believe it good enough to pass along. Properly lived up to it cannot fail to profit. "Polly of the Circus" will be seen at the Myers Theatre, Monday evening, May 2.

Staten Island's Buried Stumps.
Every once in a while, after storms tear off sections of the Staten Island meadows, great stumps and roots of ancient trees are uncovered. These roots are five or six feet underneath the meadows, and root out into the post-glacial clay and all, so may, be a matter of thousands of years old, or may hark back to the time when Staten Island was a bank of the Hudson, for the valley of the Hudson extends out to sea 80 miles, where it drops sheer into the Atlantic basin. —New York Press.

most successful musical entertainments not only of recent years but all time, have been clean. This is a statement which goes with absolutely no qualifications or reservations. It applies also to players, playwrights and managers. Just why, I don't know, unless, as I said before, cleanliness of all kinds is a tremendous factor in that success. And by success, I, as a manager, am still talking of dollars and cents. Klaw & Erlanger's "Don't Star" and "Little Nemo" and it clean today. It will be a fatal error to our national progress to let it reflect the rottenness—even the gilded rottenness—of life. Quashino is the light that counts. Two hours of it mean more to the world than twelve hours of electricity. Why depict the sordid things that exist in the dark? Invariably a playwright's excuse is that these things exist—they are truths—truths that we try to cover and keep from our homes. What good is to come of our drag-

Nineteenth of the American theatregoers are good and have wholesome admiration for decent things and decent people in an interesting way. ANOTHER AROUND THE WORLD CRUISE PLANNED

Flagship Connecticut, which will head the second cruise around the world. Upper left, Rear Admiral Schroeder, who will command the fleet. Below at left, Rear Admiral Nicholson, and at right, Rear Admiral Potter, who are mapping out the cruise.

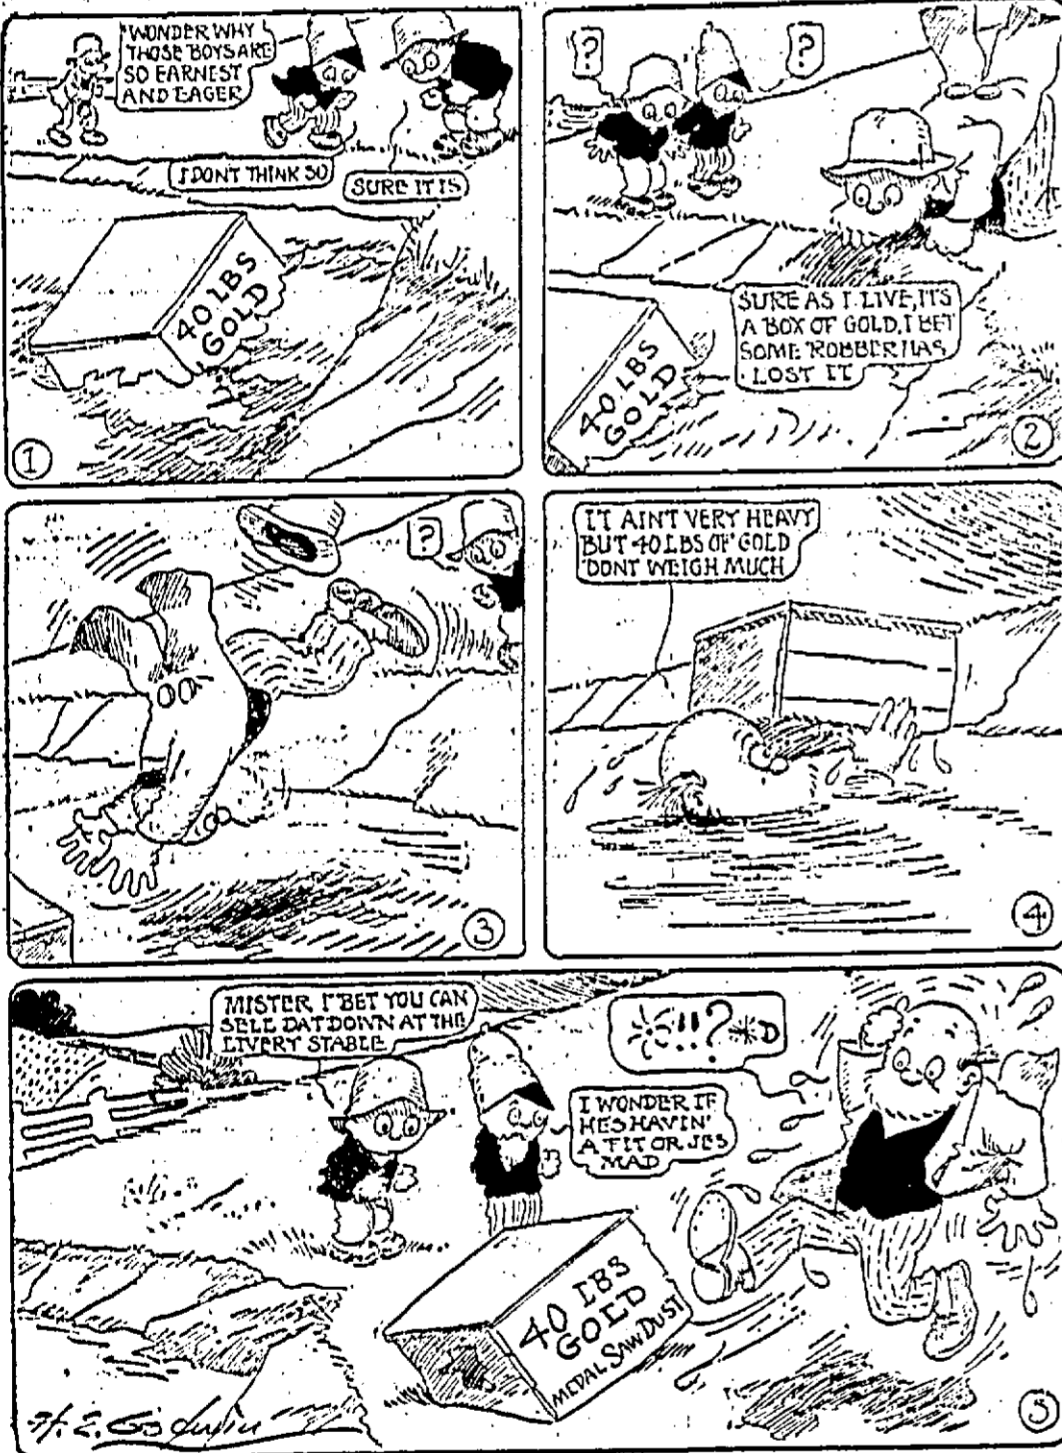

New York.—The war fleet is to go on another "around-the-world" cruise. The plans are almost certain to be approved by the president and secretary of the navy. The fleet will sail from Hampton Roads, and its going will be another review, such as marked the departure of the fleet under Admiral Evans, when the sixteen battleships were reviewed by President Roosevelt.

The direction this time will be east instead of south, the ships heading for a port in Europe, probably Gibraltar. On its arrival at Gibraltar the fleet will divide into four divisions, one of the other of the divisions visiting every important port in the Mediterranean. The further itinerary is not yet known.

Many naval officers say they would not be surprised if the voyage were continued through Suez canal and to the Philippines. The route may be extended to San Francisco and then home by way of the strait of Magellan, which would mean another round-the-world voyage. The fleet that will go in November will be a vastly greater aggregation of fighters than the fleet which sailed under Evans. In numbers it will be the same, but strength it will be almost double that of the former fleet. This time four great battleships of the Dreadnought type will be included in the sixteen. The battleship Connecticut will again be the point of the commander in chief. The officer in command will be Rear Admiral Stanton Schroeder.

BUYS FOUR GIRLS IN GOTHAM OPEN MARKET

Grand Jury Agent Through Women Cause Three Arrests of Alleged "White Slavers."

New York, April 30.—James B. Reynolds, a grand jury representative, has been able to actually purchase four "white slaves," two of whom are mere girls.

Three arrests were made as a result and another arrest is expected.

Harry Levinson, who trafficked in girls on the East side, and Belle Moore, a negro, who sold white girls on the West side, are the principals. Albeck Anderson, a negro employed in the Union cafe in Broadway, also was arrested. Levinson was held in $10,000 bail.

The girls purchased are all under eighteen years of age. Two of them appear much younger than that.

District Attorney Whitman said that it would have been an easy matter for the agents to have bought many more girls had not they insisted on having exceedingly young ones.

The women who did most of the work relating to the purchases are college graduates. One of them is from Radcliffe and the other from Smith.

They had little trouble after they once had their plans laid out, but they had to do considerable traveling.

Do You Know Positively

That You Will Be Alive and Walking the streets of Janesville Tomorrow

YOU DO NOT. You do not know that you ought not put off taking out life insurance any longer. You owe it to your family, you owe it to your self, you owe it to your creditors.

WHEN YOU TAKE out a 20 payment policy with us you ARE NOT SPENDING YOUR MONEY. YOU ARE SAVING IT, for you get every penny paid back to you that you pay the company and you have the 20 years of protection free of cost to you.

We have been 36 years on this corner. When you take out a policy with us it will mature with us. If your policy is not what you want we are here to make it right. Don't take out a policy with an agent who is here-to-day and away tomorrow, but place it with us.

Can You Find Another Policy on Which Your Premiums Cease in Case of Total Disability

Think what it means to you. If you have only been insured one year and should lose your eyesight. No more premiums to pay, and your policy goes right on keeping you insured for the full amount and pays you the cash at the end of 20 years, or if you prefer you can draw a portion of it each year.

Think What it Means—No More Premiums to Pay If You Are Disabled

If the policy is in force one year, it is incontestable EXCEPT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.

You will share in the earnings of the company, which earnings may be applied on the premiums, or they can be made to hasten the maturity of the contract.

You can borrow money of this policy as per Table "A." At end of second year $56.00, third year $94, etc. You can apply the loan as payment of premium. If two or more years full premiums have been paid and there is no indebtedness on account of loans, the policy will be extended as temporary insurance for the full sum insured, including dividend additions, for the length of time shown in the table "A" under the column "Extended Insurance," and at the end of the 20 years the company will also pay in cash the amount in table "A" under the column "Pure Endowment."

Suppose you pay four years and then stopped; you would receive 16 years of $1000 insurance and $12 in cash at the end of that time; at 5 years you get 15 years' insurance and $95 cash, etc.

If the policy should lapse for non-payment of premiums, it can be reinstated at any time within five years by paying the amount due with interest, if satisfactory evidence of insurability is furnished to the company.

Suppose you become totally disabled from sickness or accident, or become blind, or if you lose both hands or both feet or one hand and one foot, on payment of one year's premium, then your premiums on this policy stop and the company pays you one-twentieth of the policy each year until the full sum of the policy has been paid, or pays all in one sum if you let it accumulate.

Suppose you saved your money in a bank—you would get 3 to 5 per cent interest. If you put your money into this policy you share in the earnings of the company which last year on one of these 20-year endowment policies held by a Janesville resident amounted to over 15 per cent.

Freedom from Restrictions: The contract is free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death.

Grace in Payment of Premium: Grace of thirty-one days, during which time the contract will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums.

NO MAN CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT INSURANCE

Think of the benefit it would be to wife and family or mother, if you should be called by death. Think of the great amount you would get all in one sum at the expiration of the policy, and then consider that it really costs you nothing, except the interest on the money you would be saving. Read over the above carefully, see how you can borrow money on the policy, how it will carry itself, how you can be reinstated within five years if you should lapse.

INSURE YOUR WIFE

and make the $1000.00 payable to your child, you will be saving just that much money and all during the twenty years your wife is insured. Every rich man is insured heavily, every poor man needs it even more.

Many men are insured; but their wives are not, yet no man would insure one-half of his house and not the other. Insurance is as necessary on the mother of a family as on the father. Now is the best time to consider this matter. Every day, every month you put it off, or you are getting older—your rate is getting higher and no one knows when it will be too late.

Life insurance is a privilege. If it is within your reach today secure it today—tomorrow may be too late. We write the best policy in the world and with one of the strongest old line companies.

If you take out a policy with us you deal with an agency that has been established 36 years, an agency that has looked to the interest of its clients in a most thorough manner. During these 36 years of experience we have found that our companies are of the best in the world, and that it is wise to deal with a permanent established agency. Take out a policy with us and it will mature with us. Don't deal with an agent who is here today and gone tomorrow.

Write us to send you a sample policy so that you can read it over carefully, or if you prefer, we will call and explain the policy to you. Fill out this coupon right now.

Do not let this important matter go another day.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, April 30, 1870.—Yellow sun-umbrellas for young ladies are almost as "killing" as mis-directed needles for young men.

An adjourned annual meeting of the Rock County Agricultural Society was held this afternoon in Liberty Hall. The Ticklemouse —and his Sleepyland Adventures
By Roy Rutherford Bailey

Down the Red Lane

THE twins puzzled their mother yesterday morning when she asked the meaning of the cake crumbs she found strewn over their beds.

"It must have been mice that did it," said Dorcy, and gave Davy a look that made him burst out laughing.

"Mice? What nonsense! Still, perhaps there are twin mice—who knows?" and she eyed her giggling babies very sharply.

"Better tell those twin mice, if you see them, to look sharp or they'll be having 'twin stomach aches'!" she said, as Davy and Dorcy ran off upstairs to open the packages the Ticklemouse had left them.

"Oh, oh, what a darling!" exclaimed the little girl, hugging the new doll to her breast. Indeed, it was a pretty toy, daintily dressed in a scarlet gown with gold buttons, with the head of a dear little girl. The Ticklemouse! Dorcy yowed she had never in all her life had a doll one-half so sweet.

Davy's package held a toy airship, "The Flying Mouse," a perfect little working model of the Ticklemouse's aeroplane. When it was wound up it soared into the air like the real thing itself.

Davy had it tucked under his pillow, last night, when the Ticklemouse slipped into the room, checking a wisp of hay. He wore a farmer's overalls and jumper and an old straw hat with his ears sticking through the crown.

And how Davy and Dorcy giggled when they saw what was fastened below his chin! "Whiskers!" said Dorcy; "how funny they do make you look!"

"Anything to look like a farmer?" laughed the Mouse. "Here are some farmer kid suits for you, too. We're going down the Red Lane tonight." Davy asked, "Whereabouts is that?" Davy asked, "We've never been there before."

"Well, we've seen it, but we've never been in it. Wait a bit, laddie, and tell me if you see anything about it that looks familiar. Put on your farmer suits now, and crawl after me on your hands and knees."

They went crawling down the back hall, past the head of the kitchen stairs, and on—the carpet growing rougher and harder till it was nothing but a stony path. The dim night air was reddened by a sudden glare. A wild, snarling roar broke on their hearing, and the sound of some great beast crashing through the forest.

"Steady, children!" they felt the Mouse stiffen as a monstrous dragon burst into the lane, leaving a trail of twisted pines and overturned rocks. Flame poured from its cruel nostrils. It hurled itself at the three with yawning jaws, gulped them down with one snap.

"Whereabouts is that?" Davy asked, "We've never been there before."

Frauds.
Some frauds succeed from the apparent candor, the open confidence, and the full blaze of ingenuously that is thrown around them. The slightest mystery excites suspicion and ruin all. Such stratagems may be compared to the stars; they are discoverable by darkness and hidden only by light.—Colton.

Uncomplimentary.
Deacon Berry—"You remember the words of St. Paul in his defense before Agrippa?" Alvin Stalmato—"No, deacon, I do not. St. Paul, you know, was before my time." Deacon Berry—"You surprise me."
